Works

Sous les yeux de La mère
Under the eye of The mother

Acrylic on canvas
80x100 - 2024

Her story is a poem in tribute to my grandmother and her energy.

Berceau de l'âme
Cradle of the soul

Acrylic on canvas
80x100 - 2024

Title "Cradle of the soul", in the sense that the word cradle is a metaphor that designates the cave where all aspects of being are laid bare and which requires letting go in order to be explored.

Reborn

Acrylic on canvas
100x100 - 2023

In a fictional setting, in the middle of mountains and floating rocks, the tree in the center held by lianas, represents the energy of my reincarnated soul, where some soft lights emerge from its middle.

Story:

9:30 a.m.: morning chat with mom about the reincarnation of the soul.

Abya Yala

Acrylic on canvas

80x100 - 2023

1600€

Through “Abya Yala” and this new series, I represent one or more common links between different indigenous cultures as well as my relationship to nature and its events (reincarnation, worship linked to water).

Les tisseuses du Lac Inle

The weavers of Inle Lake

Acrylic on canvas

60x80 - 2022

1200€

Figurative representation of a workshop for making lotus fiber fabrics, based in Burma in the Shan region. Created 20 years ago, it has helped revive this ancestral know-how practiced only by women.

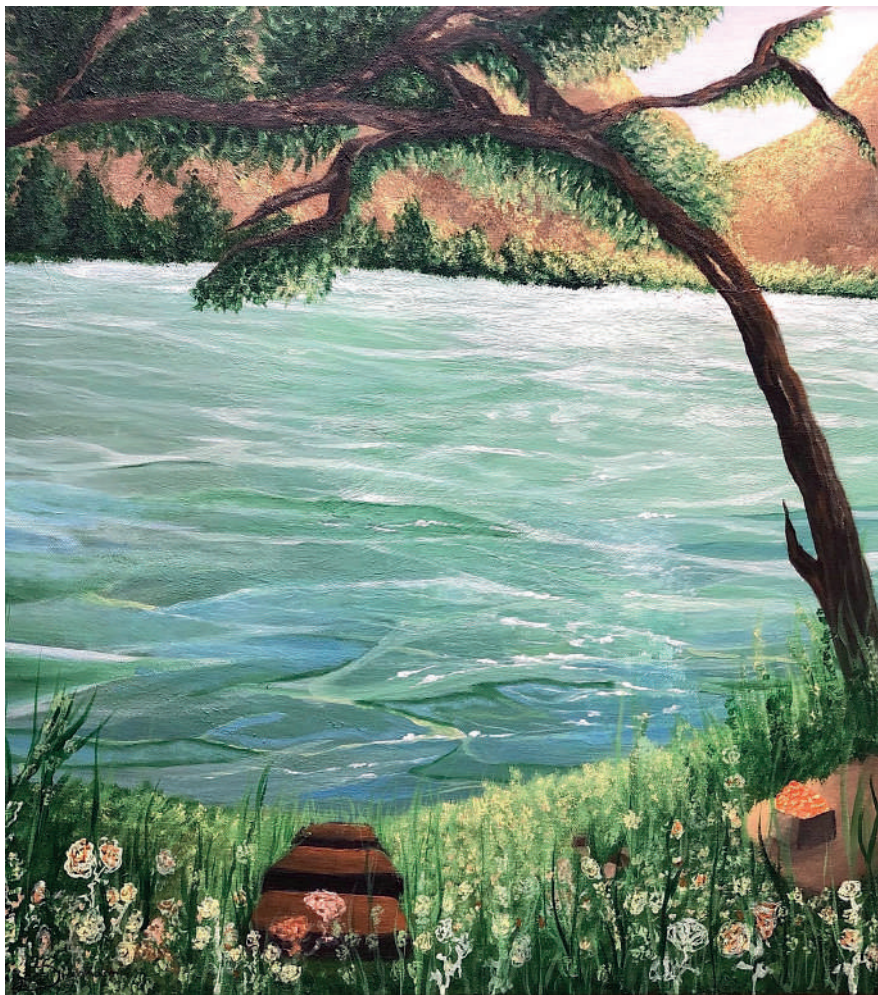

Nyangwasu na munao

The queen and her child

Acrylic on canvas
60x60 - 2022

Being from Cameroon and learning from the Douala ethnic group, I was inspired by a photo archive dating from 2003 of my mother and me (3 years old) when I was still living in our hometown .

Sérénité

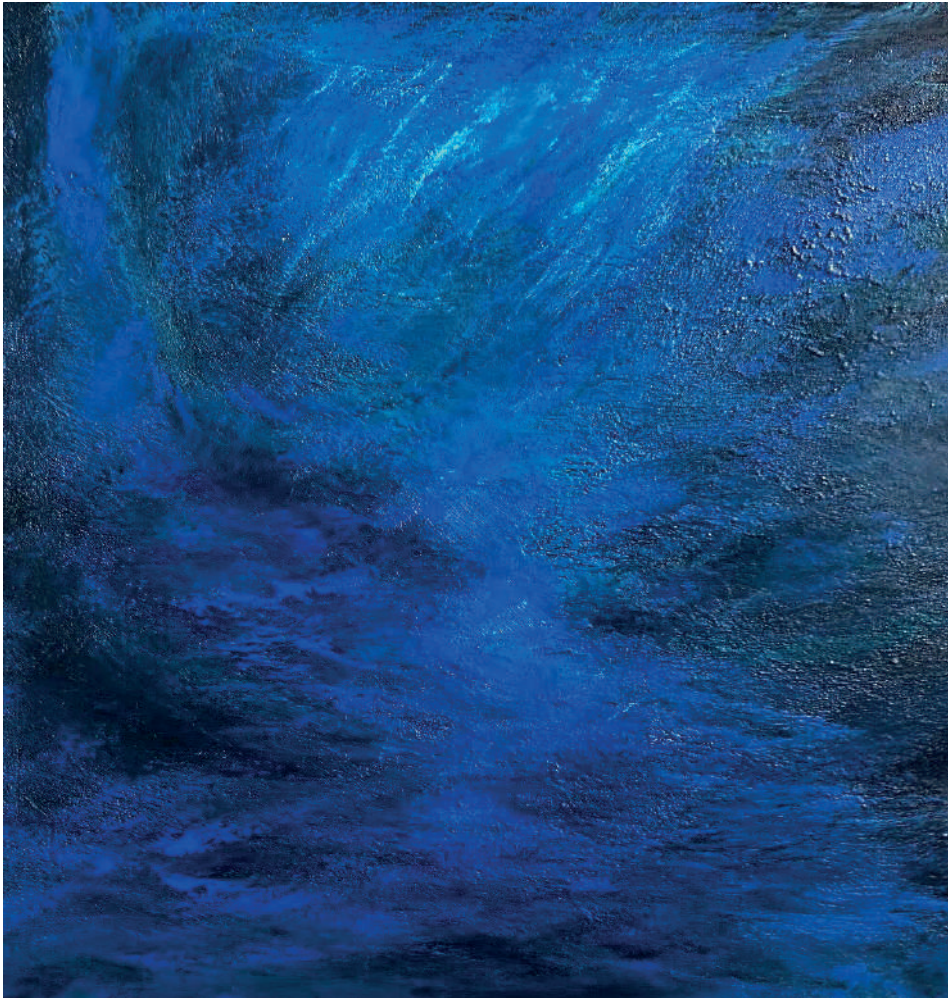

Serenity

Acrylic on canvas

60x60 - 2022

600€

The serenity that nature and its elements can bring. Stroll along a lake in the middle of summer.

Origine

Acrylic on canvas

60x60 - 2022

700€

Figurative representation of underwater depth. “The sea is the origin of the world. The wind contains all the memories of the sea. If we could better explore the universe we would realize that it resembles the sea. All are memories of water and its living beings. We are the universe, we notice it if we really want to see it.”

Floraison

Bloom

Acrylic on canvas

50x60 - 2022

500€

Memory of a countryside landscape in full bloom.

À l'atelier de Manuela Lino

At Manuela Lino's workshop

Acrylic on canvas

40x60 - 2021

600€

Manuela Lino created several years ago a textile production workshop in order to perpetuate the traditional knowledge of natural indigo dyeing at Hueyapan, Puebla, Mexico.

Récolte à l'aube

Harvest at dawn

Acrylic on canvas

40x60 - 2021

500€

Figurative representation of an indigo field which, once harvested, will be used to make the natural dye of indigo at Hueyapan, Puebla, Mexico.

Campagne à Hueyapan

Countryside in Hueyapan

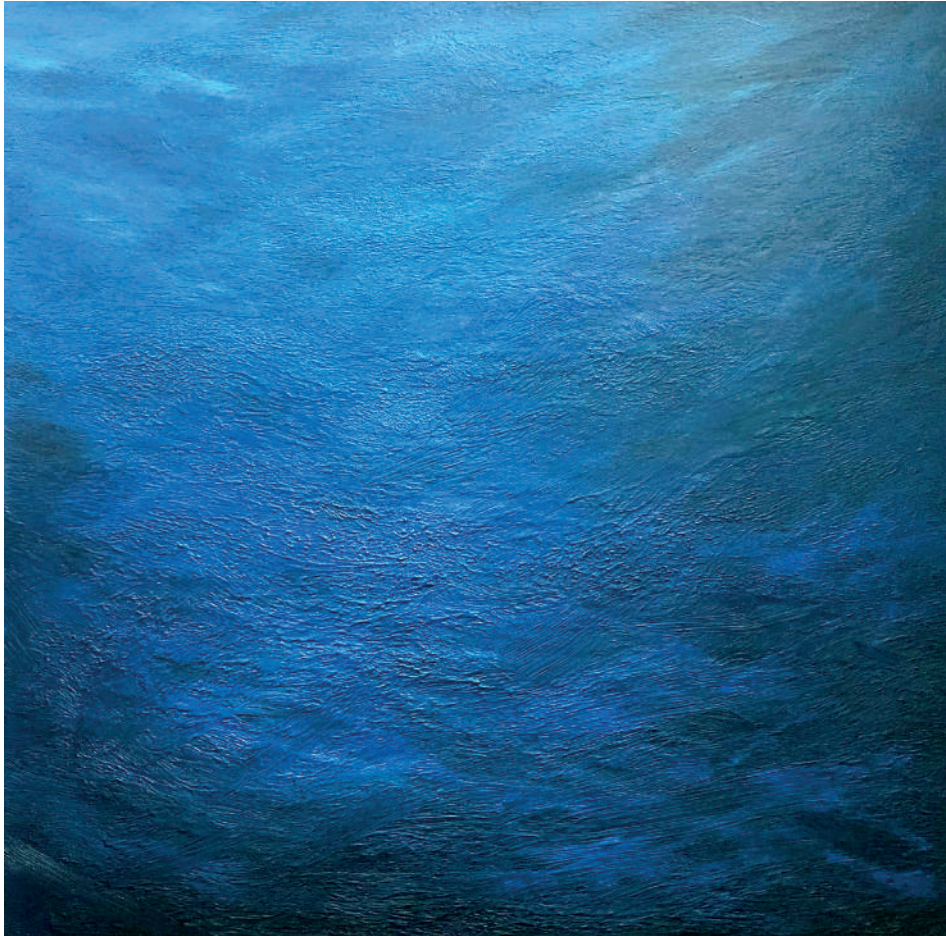

Acrylic on canvas

60x30 - 2021

400€

A series of paintings in tribute to a small rural town, Hueyapan located in the state of Morelos in northeastern Mexico, composed mainly of the Nahuatl ethnic group and its women who fought to be independent, to preserve their language (the Nahuatl) and their artisanal production of natural indigo dye, from the indigo plant to tint their outfits.

Abyss

Acrylic on canvas

60x60 - 2021

600€

Depth of the abyss.

- The abyssal or abyssopelagic zone makes up the fourth part of the ocean floor which is between 4,000 and 6,000 meters deep. The texture represents the strong pressure of the water. Visually I wanted to make the appearance of water quite heavy and loaded.

Écllosion

Acrylic on canvas

70x70 - 2021

800€

Figurative representation through nature of a path illuminated by the sun.

Inopiné

Acrylic on canvas
60x60 - 2021

700€

Abstract representation inspired by the cosmos, of an unexpected emotional reaction, bliss.

Placide
Campaign in Hueyapan

Acrylic on canvas
100x50 - 2020

300€

Figurative representation through the clouds of mental placidity.

Les écoliers de la Lobé

Schoolchildren of Lobé

Acrylic on canvas
33x46 - 2020

3rd in the series «Mother Earth» composed of 4 paintings on the theme of Cameroon. Morning landscape of schoolchildren on their way to school.

Au marché central

At the central market

Acrylic on canvas

33x46 - 2020

400€

1st of the series «Mother Earth» composed of 4 paintings on the theme of Cameroon. My inspiration from a market landscape located in Douala.

Déesses

Goddesses

Acrylic on canvas
40x50 - 2020

300€

Black women represent under the appearance of goddesses posing in a forest landscape, thus illuminating the decor with their halos. The desire to want to represent the black woman in this way is to pay homage to her being and to the social symbolism she had during the period of the African kingdoms. Inspiration comes from research on traditional African cultures and hairstyles in order to best represent black women, value black women and black culture.

Matin d'automne

Autumn morning

Acrylic on canvas

40x50 - 2020

300€

Cozy room decor with a view of trees and autumnal vegetation.

Repos en campagne

Rest in the countryside

Acrylic on canvas

60x60 - 2020

400€

Rest away from the noise of the city and its endless activity. A need to escape to the countryside, to find the gentle sun cradling our skin every morning. Despite the past hot season, the one that follows also comforts us in its own way, it makes us want to rest covered in innumerable layers of clothing and its warm sky which welcomes us some morning revives our mood. In this season even, walking among the foliage of its autumnal meadow landscapes as well as its endless fine roads become so pleasant to the point of forgetting the cold and the wind.

Souvenir Marin

Acrylic on canvas
70x70 - 2020

500€

Memory of a seabed, long admired but perhaps doomed to disappear, due to global warming.
